With all the little touches you're looking for

We make your house a wonderful place to call home.

THE PLACE WHERE I

Belong

Moving home is a thrilling new beginning, a fresh chapter. It usually starts with a challenge. We've run out of space, we don't need the space, our family is growing, we want to own our first home and to get onto the property ladder, we can afford something a bit bigger, mum is coming to stay, the kids need space of their own, I need space of my own. The list is endless and personal to each of us.

We've been a family company for generations and we know just what makes families happy at home. Great space to be together, space to be apart. Great surroundings to take the dog for a walk, for the kids to play outside safely, plenty of fresh air, mature trees, a green place, a place to be healthy and happy, that sense of well-being you feel when everything is just right.

It's all about comfort. A gleaming kitchen with plenty of worktops, premium new appliances and space for a proper kitchen table, a garden to enjoy when the weather is right, plenty of storage to hide away the boots, coats, school bags, Hoover, a beautiful bathroom – practical for the family with a bit of luxury for you, bedrooms with space and some with beautiful oak storage, already built in.

All the little touches that say – this is a quality home built with craftsmanship by people who really care.

It's warm when you come home each evening to put your feet up, it's bright and airy when you get up in the morning to make coffee, the water is hot when you need it and the energy bills are low.

The French doors open to the garden and lure the kids out so inside you can relax for a bit.

You don't have to think about your home because everything is just right. Life is for living. Weekends are for friends, sports, days out, nights in. Your home – the place to snuggle up, be fulfilled, hear laughter, plan the future, feel blessed, know that this is where you belong.

The Loch of Leys

LOCAL NATURE CONSERVATION SITE

The development of Lochside of Leys sits adjacent to the Loch of Leys Local Nature Conservation Site (LNCS). The Loch of Leys LNCS covers around 210 acres, and includes the site of a former Crannog entirely surrounded by water, on the 'Isle of the Loch of Banchory', which was granted to Alexander Burnard (the name later became Burnett) by Robert the Bruce in 1323. The site has been in the continuous ownership of the Burnetts ever since.

The loch was drained in 1850, and is now a wetland containing very little open water. It was previously designated as a Site of Special Scientific Interest due to a colony of black-headed gulls.

In June of 2013, the former SSSI site and a number of other local biodiversity designations were amalgamated into the Loch of Leys Local Nature Conservation Site. The site is made up of the former Loch, woodland and tributaries of the Burn O'Bennie, which form a rich habitat for flora and fauna.

Informal footpaths around the South of the Loch and woodlands offer stunning scenery, and a wealth of wildlife, from roe deer to red squirrels, birds and a huge variety of butterflies and dragonflies, along with wildflowers including both common spotted and northern marsh orchids.

The LNCS designation ensures that the land will not be developed, and will be managed to protect its valuable biodiversity and wildlife, with potential for future enhancements.

Beyond the LNCS, the estate lands include a network of formal and informal footpaths, linking Banchory to the policies of Crathes Castle to the East, the Deeside Way to the South, and forestry to the West.

Anyone with a love of the countryside and wildlife will feel right at home at Lochside of Leys.
